CUT RESISTANT & COATED SEAMLESS GLOVES

Liberty Safety has an extensive cut resistant glove range that caters to any work environment. Whether you need cut protection alone or with heat and/or chemical resistance, too, we have a glove that will fit.

Cut resistant gloves are designed to protect hands from direct contact with sharp edges such as glass, metal, and other materials.

Coated seamless work gloves deliver protections by creating a barrier. They can shield your skin against mild chemical exposure and abrasions.

IMPACT GLOVES

Designed to prevent occupational hand injuries, especially where there is a high risk of hand trauma due to collisions with machinery, heavy equipment, or similar hazards, impact gloves are personal protection equipment (PPE) workers rely on to perform their jobs with confidence.

Abrasions, cuts, tears, and punctures are possible when you are met with unexpected impact hazards. Impact gloves require reinforcement across the back of the hand. Many styles use TPR (thermoplastic rubber) to create a tread design for added protection.

ANSI/ISEA 138: 2019 Impact Chart

LEVEL	FORCE	LBS
ANSI/ISEA 138  1	≤9 kN	≤2000 lbs
ANSI/ISEA 138  2	≤6.5 kN	≤1349 lbs
ANSI/ISEA 138  3	≤4 kN	≤900 lbs

PROTECTIVE APPAREL

Disposable protective apparel is essential where clothing might be contaminated with potentially dangerous liquids or airborne items that make using them more than once a hazard. OSHA encourages the use of disposable safety apparel as long as it provides the required level of protection for the wearer. Disposable gloves and coveralls can be used and then thrown away. This saves time cleaning and protects against contamination. Disposable PPE is also very convenient and suited for occasional use, and because it's disposable you don't have to worry about damaging or dirtying it.
